Disneyland Star Wars: Galaxy's Edge

Star Wars: Galaxy's Edge is Disney's largest themed expansion, featuring rides, dining, and shops. Morrow Meadows handled all electrical installations and testing throughout the project.

Star Wars: Galaxy's Edge is the largest single-themed land expansion that Walt Disney Imagineering had ever created. This ambitious development included two major thrill-ride attractions, as well as several restaurants and retail shops, all carefully designed to immerse guests in the Star Wars universe. The project involved extensive planning and execution to bring the iconic world to life, creating a fully themed environment that combined cutting-edge technology with imaginative storytelling. Morrow Meadows served as the sole electrical contractor responsible for installing and testing all electrical systems throughout the entire expansion. The work covered included a wide range of electrical needs, including facilities, show elements, rides, and resort-wide systems, ensuring seamless integration and flawless operation across this landmark project.
